

LESSON 1 - Being Verbs Basics | To Be or Not To Be

1A. GRAMMAR

The 'being verbs' are the italicized verbs in these sentences.

I am in Germany.

I am a student.

You are a student in Germany.

We are students, but we are not in Germany.

She is happy.

She is not happy.

They are friends of mine.

We are friends.

He is a farmer.

Dad is a pilot.

Dan is a pilot and a farmer.

Dan is not a skate boarder.

Skate boarders are not farmers.

They are home now.

Mom is in the library.

My sister is in the library.

My mom and my sister are in the library.

My dad is not in the library.

Dad and his friends are at the school.

In Latin the being verbs are:

Singular	Plural
sum - I am	sumus - we are
es - you are	estis - you (plural) are
est - he, she, it is, or is	sunt - they are, or are

Notice that pronouns are included with the being verbs in Latin. In English, we use two separate words in a sentence: a pronoun and a verb. For instance, I am in English is just one word in Latin: sum. The Latin word est means is. However, when used by itself, it can also mean, he is, she is, or it is. Sunt means are, but also means they are. By the way, Latin loves putting the verb at the end of the sentence. Latin does not require the verb at the end, just likes it that way.

LESSON 1 - Being Verbs Basics | To Be or Not To Be

Making a negative sentence in Latin is easy. Simply add the word, non.

Non means:

not

by no means

no

Simply add it to a sentence to make the sentence negative.

Mamma est in casa.

Mom is in the house.

Mamma non est in casa.

Look at these Latin sentences. Circle the being verbs. Use the chart above to translate the sentences into English in the space provided beneath. (You can guess at the country names.)

Sum in Germania.

Es in Germania.

Sumus in Germania.

Sum in Italia.

Es in Italia.

Sumus in Italia.

Est in Britannia.

Estis in America.

Sunt in Antarctica.

Non est in Britannia.

Estis in Australia.

Non sunt in Antarctica.

Mamma et Sarah non in Germania _____.

Heidi in aqua (water) _____.

Jenny in aqua _____.

Heidi et Jenny in aqua _____.

LESSON 1 - Being Verbs Basics | To Be or Not To Be

To ask questions in Latin, simply add “-ne’ to the end of the verb. The Romans usually moved the verb to the front of the sentence after including “-ne”.

- Estne mamma in casa? Is mom in the house?
- Estne Julia in Italia? Is Julia in Italy?
- Suntne animalia in silva? Are there animals in the woods?
- Suntne animalia in aqua? Are there animals in the water?

By the way, Latin has no article adjectives. This means it does not have the words:

a

If you want to add them to English sentences when you translate, do it. Do not try to put them into Latin sentences, though.

Look closely at the example sentences. Then answer the questions in Latin.

Hilda est in America. Estne Hilda in America? Hilda est in America.

Mary est in Alaska. Estne Mary in Alaska? Mary est in Alaska.

Mary et Hilda sunt in America. Suntne Mary et Hilda in America? Mary et Hilda sunt in America.

Maria est in Italia. Estne Maria in Italia? Maria _____ in Italia.

George est in Italia. Estne George in Italia? George et Maria in Italia _____.

Heidi est in casa. Estne Heidi in casa? Heidi _____ in casa.

Mamma est in casa. Estne mamma in casa? Mamma in casa _____.

Heidi et mamma in casa _____.

1C. READING & TRANSLATION

Listen to the reading on the video, then translate the sentences in the space provided using the Latin vocabulary listed below. It's not necessary to know exactly what the word endings mean; just match Latin and English to make readable sentences. If necessary, adjust the word order so your English sentences make sense.

Deus est bonus. Deus in caelo est. Deus angelos creat.

Angeli sunt in caelo. Angeli Deum amant. Angeli cantant.

Estne caelum bellum? Caelum est bellum.

Vocabulary:	cantant - sing
amant - love	creat - creates
angelus - angel	Deus - God
angeli - angels	est - is
bellum - beautiful	estne - is?
bonus - good	sunt - are
caelum - sky, heaven	in - in

LESSON 2 - Being Verbs | Pred. Nom. and Adj.

2A. GRAMMAR

In English, when a noun follows a being verb, the being verb becomes a linking verb. The noun that follows is called a predicate nominative. Take a look:

- I am a ninja. Let's break this down.

I = the subject

am = the linking verb

a = an article adjective (The Romans did not have article adjectives.)

ninja = this noun follows a linking verb and is a predicate nominative

Here are some more examples:

- Stacy is a teacher.
- Jake is a farmer.
- Stella is a dolphin.

In English, when an adjective follows a being verb, the being verb becomes a linking verb. The adjective that follows is a predicate adjective.

- I am tired. Let's break this down.

I = the subject

am = the linking verb

tired = this adjective follows a linking verb and is a predicate adjective

Here are some more examples.

- Stacy is cheerful.
- Jake is sleepy.
- Stella is hungry.

Notice the differences? In the first three examples, a noun followed a linking verb. In the last three examples, an adjective followed the linking verb. Groovy, right? In the following sentences, circle the predicate adjectives and underline the predicate nominatives. (For extra credit, put a box around the subject and x the linking verb.)

Mom is my mom.	Stars are bright.	Latin is a language.
Tara is happy.	The beach is beautiful.	Latin is fun.
Dad is brave.	Britain is an island.	The teacher is Mr. Arnot.
God is good.	God is a spirit.	The donut is large.
The soldier is weary.	The sailors are men.	The wall is high.
